Alexander Releases Statement After House Passes President's Budget

WASHINGTON, D.C. – U.S. Rep. Rodney Alexander, R-Quitman, today released the following statement after voting against the budget passed by the U.S. House of Representatives:

“The President’s budget spends too much, taxes too much and borrows too much. Instead, the federal government needs to adopt a plan that will curb careless spending, create jobs, lower taxes and control debt.

“For months now, I have said that the American people deserve better. We cannot continue on this road of wasteful spending, saddling our children and our children’s children with this immeasurable tab.

“Congress must go back to the fundamental principles, such as limited government and personal responsibility that made our nation strong. We need a recovery plan that serves the best interests of the American people.

“During this economic crisis, our hard-working citizens deserve responsible answers; they deserve a responsible budget.”
